Item 4 – Advisory Business

Sequent Planning, LLC (“Sequent Planning”) is an investment adviser registered with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”). Sequent Planning is a limited liability company (LLC) formed under the laws of the State of Nebraska since February 2012.

- Senior Market Sales, Inc. (“SMS”) is the owner of Sequent Planning. SMS owns 100% of Sequent Planning.
- Sequent Planning has been registered as an investment adviser since February 2012.
- Richard Reed is the Chief Compliance Officer of Sequent Planning.
- Sequent Planning is doing business as Futurity First Wealth Management (FFWM). Throughout this document we utilize the name Sequent Planning, LLC, which does include the business practices of FFWM.

Introduction

The investment advisory services of Sequent Planning are provided to you through an appropriately licensed and qualified individual who is an investment adviser representative (“IAR”) of Sequent Planning (referred to as your IAR throughout this brochure).

Your IAR typically is not an employee of Sequent Planning; rather, your IAR typically is an independent contractor of Sequent Planning.

Your IAR is limited to providing advisory services and charging Advisory Fees (fees charged for services provided, usually based on Assets Under Management) in accordance with the descriptions detailed in this brochure. However, the exact services you receive and the fees you will be charged will be specified in your investment advisory agreement.

Description of Advisory Services

The following are descriptions of the primary advisory services of Sequent Planning. Please understand that a written investment advisory agreement, which details the exact terms of the advisory service, must be signed by you and Sequent Planning before we can provide you the services described below.

Asset Management Services

Sequent Planning offers asset management services, which involves Sequent Planning providing you with continuous and ongoing supervision over your specified investment accounts. Sequent may create a unique investment portfolio for you, or we may decide together to utilize a third-party money manager (see Third-Party Money Manager section below).

Sequent Planning is designated as your investment adviser of record on specified accounts (collectively, the “Account”). The Account consists only of separate account(s) held by qualified custodian(s) under your name. The qualified custodians maintain custody of all funds and securities of the Account, and you retain all rights of ownership (e.g., right to withdraw securities or cash, exercise or delegate proxy voting and receive transaction confirmations) of the Account.

The Account is managed by us based on your financial situation, investment objectives and risk tolerance. We actively monitor the Account and provide advice regarding buying, selling, reinvesting or holding securities, cash or other investments of the Account.

We will need to obtain certain information from you to determine your financial situation and investment objectives. You will be responsible for notifying us of any updates regarding your financial situation, risk tolerance or investment objective. You have the ability to impose reasonable restrictions on the management of your accounts, including the ability to instruct us not to purchase or sell certain securities. You will need to inform us if you wish to impose or modify existing investment restrictions. We will contact you at least annually to discuss any changes or updates regarding your financial situation, risk tolerance or investment objectives. We are always reasonably available to consult with you relative to the status of your Account.

It is important that you understand that we manage investments for other clients and may give them advice or take actions for them or for our personal accounts that is different from the advice we provide to you or actions taken for you. We are not obligated to buy, sell or recommend to you any security or other investment that we may buy, sell or recommend for any other clients or for our own accounts.

Conflicts arise in the allocation of investment opportunities among accounts that we manage. We strive to allocate investment opportunities believed to be appropriate for your account(s) and other accounts advised by our firm among such accounts equitably and consistent with the best interests of all accounts involved. However, there can be no assurance that a particular investment opportunity that comes to our attention will be allocated in any particular manner. If we obtain material, non-public information about a security or its issuer that we may not lawfully use or disclose, we have absolutely no obligation to disclose the information to any client or use it for any client's benefit.

Financial Planning Services

Sequent Planning offers financial planning services, which involve preparing a written financial plan covering specific or multiple topics. We provide written financial plans, which typically address the following topics: investment planning, retirement planning, insurance planning, tax planning, social security benefits, risk tolerance, balance sheet review and cash flow forecasting. When providing financial planning services, the main role of your IAR is to present your overall financial situation in an understandable format to help you understand where you are. We will help you set financial objectives, and create a financial plan for you. Written financial plans prepared by us usually do not include specific recommendations of individual securities.

These services are based on fixed fees or hourly fees and the final fee structure is outlined in the Financial Planning Agreement. Our financial planning services do not involve implementing any transaction on your behalf or the active and ongoing monitoring or management of your investments or accounts. You have the sole responsibility for determining whether to implement our financial planning recommendations. To the extent that you would like to implement any of our investment recommendations through Sequent Planning or retain Sequent Planning to actively monitor and manage your investments, you must execute a separate written investment advisory agreement with Sequent Planning.

Financial Planning Engagement

Sequent Planning offers financial planning engagements. The basic financial planning engagement follows a six-step process:

1. Initial fact-finding meeting.
2. Follow-up confirmation meeting to review materials.
3. Analyze the client situation through appropriate software tools.
4. Create the financial plan.
5. Deliver the financial plan at a client meeting.
6. Provide up to 30 days for client follow-up.

A basic financial planning engagement includes, at a minimum, the following areas: client organization, balance sheet review, cash flow forecasting, tax planning, social security benefits review, risk tolerance, and review of insurance policies. The advisor will access multiple software tools to complete the financial plan. At a minimum the basic financial planning engagement should take 8 hours to complete. A very complex financial planning engagement could take over 24 hours to complete.

Limited-Scope Engagement

Sequent also provide limited-scope engagements which only cover those specific areas of concern mutually agreed upon. For such an engagement, the financial advisor will complete six steps:

1. Initial fact-finding meeting.
2. Follow-up phone call, if necessary, to clarify or verify information.
3. Analyze the client situation through the appropriate software tool.
4. Create the financial recommendation.
5. Deliver the recommendation at a client meeting.
6. Provide up to 30 days for client follow-up.

A limited-scope engagement will focus primarily on one item. A limited-scope engagement does not involve the creation of a financial plan. There may be important issues that may not be taken into consideration when your investment advisor representative develops recommendations under a limited-scope engagement. As an example, a limited-scope engagement focusing on social security benefits and timing would include a review the expected social security benefits, analyze expected cash flows, present 3 alternatives, and include a recommendation of when to start to take the benefits. The estimated cost of a limited-scope engagement is $500 with the assumption it should take 2-4 hours to complete. As you are aware each Client situation is different. Below is a list of service offerings with an estimate of the hours to complete such limited –scope engagement:

Client Organization and document review:	2-6 hours
Balance sheet creation and analysis:	1-4 hours
Cashflow forecasting:	2-5 hours
Retirement planning:	2-4 hours
Investment planning:	2-4 hours
Social Security planning:	2-4 hours
Portfolio Market Risk Analysis:	2-4 hours
Insurance Policy Review:	2-6 hours
Alternative Investments or Business review:	4-8 hours

Referral to Third-Party Money Managers

Sequent Planning offers advisory services by referring clients to a third-party money manager offering asset management and other investment advisory services. The third-party managers are responsible for continuously monitoring client accounts and making trades in client accounts when necessary. As a result of the referral, we are paid a portion of the fee charged and collected by the third-party money managers in the form of solicitor fees. Each solicitation arrangement is performed pursuant to a written solicitation agreement and is in compliance with SEC Rule 206(4)-3 and applicable state securities rules and regulations.

Under this program, we assist you with identifying your risk tolerance and investment objectives. We recommend third-party money managers in relation to your stated investment objectives and risk tolerance, and you may select a recommended third-party money manager or model portfolio based upon your needs. You must enter into an agreement directly with the third-party money manager who provides your designated account with asset management services.

We are available to answer questions that you may have regarding your account and act as the communication conduit between you and the third-party money manager. The third-party money manager may take discretionary authority to determine the securities to be purchased and sold for your account.

Although we review the performance of numerous third-party investment adviser firms, we enter into only a select number of relationships with third-party investment adviser firms that have agreed to pay us a portion of the overall fee charged to our clients. Therefore, Sequent Planning has a conflict of interest in that it will only recommend third-party investment advisors that will agree to compensate us for referrals of our clients.

Clients are advised that there may be other third-party managed programs not recommended by our firm, that are suitable for the client and that may be more or less costly than arrangements recommended by our firm. No guarantees can be made that a client's financial goals or objectives will be achieved by a third-party investment adviser recommended by our firm. Further, no guarantees of performance can ever be offered by our firm (Please refer to Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss for more details.)

SEI Asset Management Program

The SEI Asset Management Program (SEI Program) is an institutional asset allocation program that Sequent uses in the management of assets for client accounts. The SEI Asset Management Program has wrap and non-wrap program options, depending on your investment portfolio strategy. If you enroll in the SEI Asset Management Program, Sequent will assist you in the establishment of a SEI Program Account (the Account) at SEI Trust Company (SEI). Sequent Planning and SEI, through a co-advisory arrangement, will have discretionary authority over the assets and transactions in the Account. SEI is the custodian of this program. All account transactions are processed and cleared through SEI.

The SEI Program offers investment portfolios developed by SEI Investments. The SEI offering includes four portfolio strategies: SEI Mutual Fund, SEI Managed Account Solutions, SEI Distribution Focused, and Non SEI investments. Each of the SEI strategies are created based off the client's situation, goals and needs. SEI selects, oversees, and hires/fires the third-party portfolio managers that manage the specific asset allocation strategies. SEI and the portfolio managers enter into a sub-advisory agreement.

Sequent IARs help you determine which strategy is best for your situation and monitor the account. Sequent will direct SEI to reallocate your investments in accordance with your changing needs. SEI has the authority to replace a previously selected portfolio manager or SEI Fund without your prior approval.

Trust Company of America (TCA) Money Manager Exchange (MMX)

TCA provides Sequent IARs access to third-party asset managers through the Money Manager Exchange (MME). TCA thoroughly vets each money manager on the MMX platform. TCA is not a money manager. TCA offers the platform and custodian services that support an IAR. The different third-party money managers on MMX offer their services either through a sub-advisory agreement or a co-advisory agreement. Sequent Planning will provide discretionary investment advisory services, including ongoing monitoring and surveillance of accounts.

Flexible Plan Investments Asset Management Program

Sequent Planning has entered into a Co-Advisory arrangement with Flexible Plan Investments, Ltd. Flexible Plan Investments, Ltd. offers Sequent Planning access to its third-party management services. Flexible Plan Investments will provide discretionary investment management, account administration and reporting services to Sequent Planning. Sequent Planning will provide discretionary investment advisory services, including client relationship and consulting services. Fiduciary Consulting Services are not management services, and Sequent Planning does not serve as administrator or trustee of the Plan. Sequent Planning does not act as custodian for any corporate or participant account or have access to corporate or participant funds or securities (with the exception of, some accounts, having written authorization from the company or participant to deduct our fees).

Sequent Planning acknowledges that in performing the Fiduciary Consulting Services listed above that it is acting as a “fiduciary” as such term is defined under Section 3(21)(A)(ii) of Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (“ERISA”) for purposes of providing non-discretionary investment advice only. However, in providing the Fiduciary Consulting Services, Sequent Planning (a) has no responsibility and will not (i) exercise any discretionary authority or discretionary control respecting management of company’s retirement plan, (ii) exercise any authority or control respecting management or disposition of assets of company’s retirement plan, or (iii) have any discretionary authority or discretionary responsibility in the administration of company’s retirement plan or the interpretation of company’s retirement plan documents, (b) is not an “investment manager” as defined in Section 3(38) of ERISA and does not have the power to manage, acquire or dispose of any plan assets, and (c) is not the “Administrator” of company’s retirement plan as defined in ERISA.

We have discretionary authority to make all decisions to buy, sell or hold securities, cash or other investments for the designated retirement plan assets in our sole discretion without first consulting with the company. We also have the power and authority to carry out these decisions by giving instructions, on the company's behalf, to brokers and dealers and the qualified custodian(s) of the Plan for our management of the designated retirement plan assets.

- Discretionary Investment Selection Services. Sequent Planning will monitor the investment options of the Plan and add or remove investment options for the Plan. Sequent Planning will have discretionary authority to make all decisions regarding the investment options that will be made available to Plan participants.
- Default Investment Alternative Management. Sequent Planning will develop and actively manage qualified default investment alternative(s) ("QDIA"), as defined in DOL Reg. Section 2550.404c-5(e)(4)(i), for participants who are automatically enrolled in the Plan or who otherwise fail to make an investment election.

If the company elects to utilize any of Sequent Planning's Fiduciary Management Services, then Sequent Planning will be acting as an Investment Manager to the Plan, as defined by ERISA section 3(38), with respect to our Fiduciary Management Services, and Sequent Planning hereby acknowledges that it is a fiduciary with respect to its Fiduciary Management Services.

Non-Fiduciary Services

Services to retirement plans are governed by Section 3(21)(A)(ii) of ERISA. This section allows an IAR to perform Non-Fiduciary services to a retirement plan. The services listed in this section are Non-Fiduciary. The exact suite of services provided to a company will be listed and detailed in the Qualified Retirement Plan Agreement.

Sequent Planning provides companies with the following Non-Fiduciary Retirement Plan Consulting Services:

- Participant Education. Sequent Planning will provide education services to Plan participants about general investment principles and the investment alternatives available under the Plan. statement, investment committee minutes, asset allocation/asset liability studies, due diligence fields on funds/money managers and monitoring procedures for funds and/or money managers.

- Benchmarking. Sequent Planning will provide benchmarking services and will provide analysis concerning the operations of the Plan.

We can also meet with individual Plan participants to discuss their specific investment risk tolerance, investment time frame and investment selections.

Securities and other types of investments all bear different types and levels of risk. Those risks are typically discussed with companies in defining the investment policies and objectives that will guide investment decisions for their retirement plan accounts. Upon request, as part of our retirement plan services, we can discuss those investments and investment strategies that we believe may tend to reduce these risks for a particular company's circumstances and plan participants.

Companies and their Plan participants must realize that obtaining higher rates of return on investments entails accepting higher levels of risk. Based upon discussions with the company, we will attempt to identify the balance of risks and rewards that is appropriate and suitable for the company and Plan participants. It is both the company's and Plan participants responsibility to ask questions if either does not fully understand the risks associated with any investment. All Plan participants are strongly encouraged to read prospectuses, when applicable, and ask questions prior to investing.

We strive to render our best judgment for retirement plans. Still, Sequent Planning cannot assure that investments will be profitable or assure that no losses will occur in the company or Plan participant accounts. Past performance is an important consideration with respect to any investment or investment advisor, but it is not necessarily an accurate predictor of future performance.

Sequent Planning will disclose, to the extent required by ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c), to the company changes to the information that we are required to disclose under ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c)(1)(iv) as soon as practicable, but no later than sixty (60) days from the date on which we are informed of the change (unless such disclosure is precluded due to extraordinary circumstances beyond our control, in which case the information will be disclose as soon as practicable).

In accordance with ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c)(vi)(A), we will disclose within thirty (30) days following receipt of a written request from the responsible plan fiduciary or Plan Administrator (unless such disclose is precluded due to extraordinary circumstances beyond our control, in which case the information will be disclosed as soon as practicable) all information related to the Qualified Retirement Plan Agreement and any compensation or fees received in connection with the Agreement that is required for the Plan to comply with the reporting and disclosure requirements of Title 1 of ERISA and the regulations, forms and schedules issued thereunder.

If we make an unintentional error or omission in disclosing the information required under ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c)(1)(iv) or (vi), we will disclose to the company the correct information as soon as practicable, but no later than thirty (30) days from the date on which we learn of such error or omission.

Retirement Plan Accounts & Conflicts of Interest

Many people have invested funds in their company sponsored retirement plan. Many people have not hired an investment advisor representative to help manage their retirement plan account. Our IARs can earn Advisory Fees related to retirement plan accounts in one of three ways:

1. You hire an IAR to provide advisory services related to your retirement plan account.
2. An IAR recommends that you transfer the retirement plan funds to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA).
3. You hire an IAR to provide advisory services to your retirement plan account and the IAR recommends that you transfer the retirement plan to an IRA. (1 & 2 above).

Prior to entering into any agreement with you, our IAR did not receive any Advisory Fees from you. After entering into an agreement with you, the IAR does receive Advisory Fees. The IAR is earning more fees (deemed economic incentive) after entering into an agreement with you. This economic incentive creates a conflict of interest under ERISA law. Sequent has taken steps to help manage this conflict of interest.

To the extent Sequent provides investment advice to a participant in a retirement plan under ERISA regarding 1) whether to maintain investments and/or proceeds in an ERISA retirement plan, 2) rollover such investment/proceeds from the ERISA retirement plan to an individual retirement account ("Rollover IRA account"), or 3) make a distribution from the ERISA retirement plan: Sequent hereby acknowledges its fiduciary obligations. As a fiduciary, our IARs will act with the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing. Sequent and its IARs will conduct business based on your investment objectives, risk tolerance, financial circumstances and needs, without regard to personal or company self-interest.

(Please refer to Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss for more information.)

Participation in Wrap Fee Programs

Sequent Planning offers investment advisory services through both wrap fee programs and non-wrap fee programs. A wrap fee program is an advisory program under which a specified fee (or fees), not based directly upon transactions in a client's account, is charged for investment advisory services. (it "wraps" the transactional expenses associated to the investment account into the Advisory Fee). A non-wrap fee program has a specific Advisory Fee and also charges the client directly for transactional expenses (an example would be transactional expense incurred to buy or sell a security).

Sequent Wrap Fee Program

In the Sequent Wrap Fee Program, Sequent is the primary portfolio manager and our IARs have discretion over your account. Even though advisory services and transaction costs are covered for one fee, clients are still responsible for all other account fees; such as annual IRA account fees to the custodian, termination fees if the account is moved to another custodian, and fees related to similar services.

Sequent will utilize non-affiliated third-party service providers and/or sub-advisors (including but not limited to other registered investment advisors such as Focus Point Solutions, Inc. and/or Asset Dedication, LLC) to service client accounts in the Wrap Fee Program. The cost of these services are included ("wrapped") in the specified fee. These providers will provide services such as asset management, research, due diligence, reporting, portfolio analysis, and back office administration. Service providers and/or sub-advisors do not have any direct contact with our clients. Sequent will also select sub-advisors for specific expertise, including but not limited to Asset Dedication, LLC, for selection of individual bonds. For more information regarding the Wrap Fee program, please see the Sequent Planning Wrap Fee Brochure.

SEI Wrap Fee Program

In the SEI Wrap Fee Program, Sequent will recommend an investment portfolio strategy developed by SEI Investment based on the client's situation, goals and need. The SEI portfolio strategies include the SEI Mutual Fund, SEI Managed Account Solutions, SEI Distribution Focused, and Non SEI investments. For more information regarding the SEI Wrap Fee Program, please see the SEI Wrap Fee Brochure.

Tailor Advisory Services to Individual Needs of Clients

Sequent Planning's advisory services are tailored to your individual needs. This means, for example, that when we provide asset management services, you are given the ability to impose restrictions on the accounts we manage for you, including specific investment selections and sectors. Our financial planning services are provided based on your individual financial situation. When providing asset management services and/or financial planning services, we work with you on a one-on-one basis through interviews and questionnaires to determine your investment objectives and suitability information.

We retain the right to refuse to work with you. Sequent will not enter into an investment adviser agreement with a prospective client whose investment objectives may be considered incompatible with our investment philosophy or strategies or where the prospective client seeks to impose unduly restrictive investment guidelines.

Client Assets Managed by Sequent Planning

The amount of clients' assets managed by Sequent Planning totaled $90,397,810 as of November 30, 2018. All assets are managed on a discretionary basis.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

In addition to the information provided in Item 4 – Advisory Business, this section provides additional details regarding our firm's services along with descriptions of each service's fees and compensation arrangements. It should be noted that lower fees for comparable service may be available from other sources. The exact fees and other terms will be outlined in the agreement between you and Sequent Planning.

Sequent Planning allows your IAR to set Advisory Fees within ranges provided by Sequent Planning. As a result, your IAR can charge more or less for the same service than another IAR of Sequent Planning.

Fees for Asset Management Services

Fees charged for our asset management services ("Advisory Fee") are charged based on a percentage of Assets Under Management ("AUM"), billed in arrears, net of income, withholding or other taxes (at the end of the billing period) and deducted from your account on a quarterly calendar basis. The Advisory Fees are calculated based on the fair market value of your account as of the last business day of the current billing period. Each quarter, the qualified custodian of your account sends or makes available to you an account statement that includes an Advisory Fee notification which shows the computed fee, any adjustments to the fee, an explanation of any adjustment and the net Advisory Fee to be deducted later in the period from your account.

Fees are prorated (based on the number of days service is provided during the initial billing period) for your account opened at any time other than the beginning of the billing period. If asset management services are commenced in the middle of the billing period, then the prorated fee for that billing period will be billed in arrears at the end of that billing period.

The asset management services continue until terminated by either party (i.e., Sequent Planning or you) by giving thirty (30) days written notice to the other party. When fees are billed in arrears, Sequent Planning will prorate the final fee payment based on the number of days services are provided during the final period. The amount of client assets on the termination date will be used to determine the final Advisory Fee payment amount.

Advisory Fees charged for our asset management services are negotiable based on the IAR providing the services, the type of client, the complexity of the client's situation, the composition of the client's account (i.e., equities versus mutual funds), the potential for additional account deposits, the relationship of the client with the IAR, and the total amount of assets under management for the client.

The annual Advisory Fee for asset management services will never exceed 1.75% (Advisory Fee Cap). Each advisor has the authority and discretion to price their advisory services, therefore, the annual Advisory Fee may fluctuate from advisor to advisor and from client to client.

Sequent Planning requires a minimum of $100,000 in order to open an account in the Wrap Fee Program. To reach this account minimum, clients can aggregate all household accounts. Exceptions can be granted to this minimum based on needs of the client and the complexity of the situation. Each advisor has the discretion to accept accounts less than $100,000.

Sequent Planning believes that its annual Advisory Fee is reasonable in relation to: (1) services provided and (2) the fees charged by other investment advisers offering similar services/programs. However, our annual Advisory Fee may be higher than that charged by other investment advisers offering similar services/programs.

In addition to the Advisory Fee, you may incur additional charges imposed by third parties other than Sequent Planning in connection with investments made through your account including, but not limited to mutual fund sales loads, internal expenses of the security which may include 12(b)-1 fees, surrender charges, variable annuity fees and surrender charges, IRA and qualified retirement plan fees, and custodian service charges. Advisory Fees charged by Sequent Planning are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by the investment company that created and manages the mutual fund or exchange traded fund. A description of the fees and expenses charged on the investment are available in each investment prospectus.

The Advisory Fees are deducted from your account and paid directly to our firm by the qualified custodian(s) of your account. You will authorize the qualified custodian(s) of your account to deduct fees from your account and pay Advisor Fees directly to our firm. The billing statement will detail the formula used to calculate the Advisory Fee, the assets under management and the time period covered.

You should review your account statements received from the qualified custodian(s) and verify that appropriate Advisory Fees are being deducted. The qualified custodian(s) will not verify the accuracy of the Advisory Fees deducted.

Fees for Financial Planning Services

Sequent charges for the time, energy and knowledge utilized to create your financial plan. Fees charged for our financial planning services are negotiable based upon the the particular investment advisor representative working with client, the type of client (including prospective clients for marketing purposes), the complexity of the client's situation, the composition of the client's account (i.e., equities versus mutual funds), the potential for additional account deposits, the relationship of the client with the investment advisor representative, the geographic location and the total amount of assets under management for the client (combined as "negotiable factors").

Sequent has two alternatives regarding fee payment: Hourly Fee and Fixed Fee.

Hourly Fee

Sequent provides financial planning services under an hourly fee arrangement. The hourly rate range is $125 - $300 per hour for either a limited-scope engagement or a financial planning engagement. The hourly rate is negotiable based upon the particular investment advisor representative working with client and the negotiable factors.

Example: Hourly fee range based on negotiable factors:

Advisor with 5 years or less experience, rural town of 15,000 people, and client situation is straightforward: Rate $125 – $200 per hour.

Advisor with 10 years or more experience, large metropolitan city, client situation is straightforward: Rate $200 – 300 per hour.

Based upon the above negotiable factors, each investment advisor representative is allowed to set Sequent Planning's hourly financial planning fee up to a maximum amount of $300 per hour. The actual hourly fee charged by Sequent Planning will be specified in the client's agreement with Sequent Planning.

Fixed Fee

Sequent Planning also provides financial planning services under a fixed fee arrangement. A mutually agreed upon fixed fee is charged for financial planning services under this arrangement. There is a range in the amount of the fixed fee charged by Sequent Planning for financial planning services. The minimum fixed fee for a comprehensive financial plan is $1000 and the maximum fixed fee is $5,000. The minimum fixed fee for a limited engagement is $500. The amount of the fixed fee for your engagement is specified in your financial planning agreement with Sequent Planning.

Each IAR has the authority to require an advanced payment when entering a Financial Planning agreement. The advanced payment would be made via a check. However, at no time will Sequent Planning require payment of more than $1,200 in fees more than six months in advance. The remainder of the fee, if any, is due upon presentation of the materials to you. Fees that are paid in advance can be refunded. The refunded amount would be based on the prorated amount of work completed at the point of termination. The final fee schedule will be outlined in the Financial Planning Agreement. Clients may terminate their contracts without penalty within five business days of signing the Financial Planning Agreement. Lower fees for comparable services may be available from other sources.

Financial situations vary for each client. Some client financial situations can be very complex and therefore require much more time for the advisor to complete. Before commencing with financial planning services or limited-scope engagements, Sequent provides an estimated fee of the approximate hours needed to complete the requested financial planning services. When appropriate, Sequent will charge for the additional time needed to complete the limited scope engagement or the financial planning engagement. Examples of when a financial advisor will charge additional fees includes, but is not limited to:

1. Client request to create additional financial scenarios. Each additional scenario created costs at a minimum $300 to create.

2. More than 4 insurance policies are requested to be reviewed in a limited-scope insurance review engagement. Each additional policy review costs a minimum of $125 per review.
3. Review of non-tradable or illiquid holdings such as a closely held business. The range of cost for an individual business review is $500 - $2,000.

Sequent's financial plans and limited-scope engagements are time specific. Neither offering creates an ongoing client relationship. Clients are provided specific materials concerning their financial situation. After the presentation of the materials, we have no further obligations or requirements to you. Clients may request additional services from us.

For clients that choose to engage Sequent for a comprehensive financial plan, there is a minimum fee of $1,000. Each investment advisor representative has the authority to waive the financial planning fee. By signing an Investment Advisory Agreement with Sequent, we may offer to waive or reduce the fees for financial planning services.

Other Fee Terms for Financial Planning Services

The financial planning services terminate upon delivery of the written financial plan or upon either party providing the other party with written notice of termination.

If you terminate the financial planning services after entering into an agreement with us, you will be responsible for immediate payment of any financial planning services performed by Sequent Planning prior to the receipt by Sequent Planning of your notice of termination. For financial planning services performed by Sequent Planning under an hourly arrangement, you will pay Sequent Planning for any hourly fees incurred at the rate in the agreement. For financial planning services performed by Sequent Planning under a fixed fee arrangement, you will pay an early termination fee for the hours worked by Sequent Planning. The calculation of the early termination fee is the fixed fee rate multiplied by the ratio of hours worked divided by the expected total hours. In the event that there is a remaining balance of any fees paid in advance after the deduction of fees from the final invoice, those remaining proceeds will be refunded by Sequent Planning to you within 30 days of termination.

You should notify Sequent within ten (10) days of receipt of an invoice if you have questions about or dispute any billing entry.

To the extent Sequent engages an outside professional (i.e. attorney, independent investment advisor or Accountant) while providing financial planning services to you, Sequent will be responsible for the payment of the fees for the services of such an outside professional, and you will not be required to reimburse Sequent for such payments. To the extent that you personally engage such an outside professional, you will be responsible for the payment of the fees for the services of such an outside professional, and Sequent will not be required to reimburse you for such payments. When engaged by the client, the fees for the outside professional will be in addition to and separate from the Advisory Fees charged by Sequent.

All advisory fees paid to Sequent for services are separate and distinct from any insurance products sold. The commissions, fees and expenses charged by insurance companies associated with any insurance products such as disability insurance, life insurance and annuities are expenses that are incurred directly by you. If you sell or liquidate certain existing securities positions to acquire any insurance or annuity, you may also pay a commission and/or deferred sales charges. These charges are also separate and distinct from the Sequent Advisory Fees.

Many of our IARs are also licensed insurance agents. If you elect to have your IAR, in his or her separate capacity as an insurance agent, implement the recommendations of the financial plan, your IAR will receive commissions on the insurance transactions in his or her role as insurance agent, in addition to the Advisory Fee received for providing financial planning services. As stated above, Sequent may offer to waive or reduce the financial planning fee, however, the financial planning fee is not negotiable or waived after the fact based on implementation of the plan or any part of the plan.

All Advisory Fees paid to Sequent are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each mutual fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses and a possible distribution fee. If the fund also imposes sales charges, you may pay an initial ongoing or deferred sales charge. Likewise, the qualified custodian or broker-dealer executing certain transaction will charge commissions for implementing transactions.

Fees for Third-Party Money Manager Programs

Third-party money managers generally have minimum account balance requirements ("account minimums") or minimum account fees. The account minimums will vary among third-party money managers. Account minimums are generally higher on fixed income accounts than on equity-based accounts. A complete description of the third-party money manager's services, fee schedules and account minimums will be disclosed in the third-party money manager's disclosure brochure which will be provided to you prior to or at the time an agreement for services is executed and the account is established.

The actual fee charged to you will vary depending on the third-party money manager. All fees are calculated and collected by the third-party money manager who will be responsible for delivering our portion of the fee paid by you to us. Your specific fee charged for the third-party asset management program, will be disclosed in your advisory agreement with them.

Under this program, you can incur additional charges including but not limited to, mutual fund sales loads, 12b-1 fees and surrender charges, and IRA and qualified retirement plan fees.

We have a conflict of interest by only offering those third-party money managers that have agreed to pay a portion of their advisory fee to us and have met the conditions of our due diligence review. There may be other third-party money managers that may be suitable for you that may be more or less costly. No guarantees can be made that your financial goals or objectives will be achieved. Further, no guarantees of performance can be offered.

SEI Asset Management Program

Sequent offers third party asset management services through the SEI Program. Clients enter into a Tri-Party Agreement between the client, Sequent, and SEI. Sequent and SEI act as co-advisors in the Tri-Party Agreement. Sequent has discretion to pick the investments and move the client assets between SEI portfolio strategies.

Clients in the SEI Program will pay Sequent a maximum Advisory Fee of 1.5% based on assets under management. The fee charged by SEI will be disclosed in the Tri-Party agreement between Sequent, SEI and you. The custody of all funds and securities are maintained by SEI. SEI Trust Company may charge a separate custodial fee for the custody services it provides to your account. A complete description of SEI's advisory services, fee schedules and account minimums will be disclosed in their Firm Brochure which will be provided to you by SEI prior to or at the time an agreement for services is executed and the account is established.

SEI earns fees in one of three ways for the services it provides.

1. SEI mutual funds have internal expenses. SEI receives the internal expenses related to the SEI mutual fund offerings.
2. SEI provides strategic asset management solutions. SEI charges for these asset management services.
3. SEI provides a platform to support advisers and client services and custodian services.

Each quarter, SEI sends you an account statement that includes details of the fees charged to your account.

You may terminate the SEI Program Account at any time by notifying Sequent. Termination will be effective upon 30 days written notice to the other party. If services are terminated within five business days of executing the client agreement, services will be terminated without penalty. After the initial five business days, you may be responsible for payment of fees for the number of days services were provided by Sequent prior to receipt of the notice of termination.

Sequent may invest a portion of your assets in mutual funds, exchange traded funds (ETFs) or other approved investments that are managed by SEI. These products charge an investment management fee on client's assets invested in these securities. If you are invested in a SEI mutual fund, SEI is paid an investment management fee by the mutual fund, therefore, SEI will not charge a custodian fee.

Trust Company of America ("TCA")

TCA provides platform and custodian services. TCA charges a fee for custodian and platform services. Each quarter, TCA sends you an account statement that includes an advisory fee notification which shows the computed fee, any adjustments to the fee, an explanation of any adjustment and the net advisory fee to be deducted later in the period from your account and the custodian fee. Advisory fees are paid to Sequent and the custodian fee is paid to TCA.

Clients in the TCA Program will pay Sequent a maximum Advisory Fee of 1.5% based on assets under management. The Advisory Fee may be negotiable based on the complexity of the client's account, amount of assets under management, anticipated additional future assets, household and related account assets, investment advisor representative providing the services and the relationship with the client. The custody of all funds and securities are maintained by TCA. Trust Company of America will charge a separate custodial fee for the custody services it provides to your account.

TCA does not offer Asset Management services directly. TCA offers Asset Management services through the Money Manager Exchange (MME) Program. Sequent and the third-party manager will have discretionary authority over your account. If you and your advisor agree to become part of the MME Program, the third-party asset manager will charge an asset management fee separate and distinct from the Sequent Advisory Fee and the TCA custodian fee. The maximum fee charged by the third-party asset manager to the client in the MME Program is 1.2%. Sequent can invest a portion of your assets in mutual funds, exchange traded funds (ETFs) or other securities. These products will charge an investment management fee on client's assets invested in these securities. This fee is known as the "internal expense” of the fund. Therefore, when invested in such fund, you will pay two separate fees for the management of these assets, one directly to Sequent (advisory fee) and one indirectly to the managers of the mutual funds or ETFs held in your portfolios (internal expense).

You may terminate the TCA Program at any time by notifying Sequent. Termination will be effective upon 30 days written notice to the other party. If services are terminated within five business days of executing the client agreement, services will be terminated without penalty. After the initial five business days, you may be responsible for payment of fees for the number of days services were provided by Sequent prior to receipt of the notice of termination.

Flexible Plan Investments Program

Sequent Planning has entered into a Co-Advisory arrangement with Flexible Plan Investments, Ltd. Client will authorize discretionary authority to both Sequent Planning and Flexible Plan Investments, Ltd.

The Flexible Plan Investments (FPI) Program advisory fees are payable quarterly in arrears, based on assets under management at the end of the quarter. The total fee paid by Clients in this program will not exceed 2.25%. Clients in the FPI Program will pay Sequent a maximum advisory fee of 1.25% based on assets under management. The Sequent Advisory Fee is a sub-set of the total fee paid by the Client. Advisory fees are automatically deducted from your account. FPI will provide periodic reports and statements to Client at least quarterly. TCA is the custodian for the FPI Program. The TCA custodian fee is included in the total fee of the FPI program.

You may terminate the FPI Program at any time by notifying Sequent. Termination will be effective upon 30 days written notice to the other party. If services are terminated within five business days of executing the client agreement, services will be terminated without penalty. After the initial five business days, you may be responsible for payment of fees for the number of days services were provided by Sequent prior to receipt of the notice of termination.

Fees For Retirement Plan Services

For retirement plan sponsor companies, Sequent Planning will charge an annual fee that is calculated as a percentage of the value of plan assets. This fee is negotiable based upon the complexity of the plan, the size of the plan assets, the actual services requested, the representative providing the services and the potential for additional deposits.

Sequent Planning charges an annual fee based upon the value of the plan assets. The following annual fee table for Non-Fiduciary and Fiduciary services provide our list price for these services. Each Plan is different and therefore the final price can be negotiated by our IAR.

Non-Fiduciary:

Plan Assets		Annual Fees
$ 0 - $ 5,000, 000	Tier 1	Up to 0.75%
$5,000,001 – $10,000,000	Tier 2	Tier 1 + 0.50% on Tier 2 balance
$10,000,000+	Tier 3	Customized pricing

Fiduciary:

Plan Assets		Annual Fees
$ 0 - $ 5,000, 000	Tier 1	Up to 1.00%
$5,000,001 – 10,000,000	Tier 2	Tier 1 + 0.75% on Tier 2 Balance
$10,000,000+	Tier 3	Customized pricing

For retirement plan sponsors, fees are billed in arrears (at the end of the billing period) on a quarterly calendar basis and calculated based on the fair market value of the Plan as of the last business day of the current billing period. Fees are prorated (based on the number of days service is provided during the initial billing period) for Plan's opened at any time other than the beginning of the billing period.

Advisory Fees will be deducted as directed by the retirement plan. Clients are required to provide the custodian or recordkeeper with written authorization to deduct the fees from the account and pay the fees to Sequent Planning.

Either party may terminate services by providing written notice of termination to the other party. If services are terminated within five business days of signing the retirement plan agreement, services are terminated without penalty.

Sequent Planning does not reasonably expect to receive any other compensation, direct or indirect, for the retirement planning services. If we receive any other compensation for such services, we will (i) offset that compensation against our stated fees, and (ii) will disclose to the company sponsor the amount of such compensation, the services rendered for such compensation and the payer of such compensation.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Sequent Planning may use any of the following methods of analysis in formulating investment advice:

Charting - This is a set of techniques used in technical analysis in which charts are used to plot price movements, volume, settlement prices, open interest, and other indicators, in order to anticipate future price movements. Users of these techniques, called chartists, believe that past trends in these indicators can be used to extrapolate future trends.

Charting is likely the most subjective analysis of all investment methods since it relies on proper interpretation of chart patterns. The risk of reliance upon chart patterns is that the next day's data can always negate the conclusions reached from prior days' patterns. Also, reliance upon chart patterns bears the risk of a certain pattern being negated by a larger, more encompassing pattern that has not shown itself yet.

Cyclical – This method analyzes the investments sensitive to business cycles and whose performance is strongly tied to the overall economy. For example, cyclical companies tend to make products or provide services that are in lower demand during downturns in the economy and in higher demand during upswings. Examples include the automobile, steel, and housing industries. The stock price of a cyclical company will often rise just before an economic upturn begins and fall just before a downturn begins. Investors in cyclical stocks try to make the largest gains by buying the stock at the bottom of a business cycle, just before a turnaround begins.

While most economists and investors agree that there are cycles in the economy that need to be respected, the duration of such cycles is generally unknown. An investment decision to buy at the bottom of a business cycle may actually turn out to be a trade that occurs before or after the bottom of the cycle. If done before the bottom, then downside price action can result prior to any gains. If done after the bottom, then some upside price action may be missed. Similarly, a sell decision meant to occur at the top of a cycle may result in missed opportunity or unrealized losses.

Fundamental – This is a method of evaluating a security by attempting to measure its intrinsic value by examining related economic, financial and other qualitative and quantitative factors. Fundamental analysts attempt to study everything that can affect the security's value, including macroeconomic factors (like the overall economy and industry conditions) and individually specific factors (like the financial condition and management of a company). The end goal of performing fundamental analysis is to produce a value that an investor can compare with the security's current price in hopes of figuring out what sort of position to take with that security (underpriced = buy, overpriced = sell or short). Fundamental analysis is considered to be the opposite of technical analysis. Fundamental analysis is about using real data to evaluate a security's value. Although most analysts use fundamental analysis to value stocks, this method of valuation can be used for just about any type of security.

The risk associated with fundamental analysis is that it is somewhat subjective. While a quantitative approach is possible, fundamental analysis usually entails a qualitative assessment of how market forces interact with one another in their impact on the investment in question. It is possible for those market forces to point in different directions, thus necessitating an interpretation of which forces will be dominant. This interpretation may be wrong and could therefore lead to an unfavorable investment decision.

Technical – This is a method of evaluating securities by analyzing statistics generated by market activity, such as past prices and volume. Technical analysts do not attempt to measure a security's intrinsic value, but instead use charts and other tools to identify patterns that can suggest future activity. Technical analysts believe that the historical performance of stocks and markets are indications of future performance.

Technical analysis is even more subjective than fundamental analysis in that it relies on proper interpretation of a given security's price and trading volume data. A decision might be made based on a historical move in a certain direction that was accompanied by heavy volume; however, that heavy volume may only be heavy relative to past volume for the security in question, but not compared to the future trading volume. Therefore, there is the risk of a trading decision being made incorrectly, since future trading volume is an unknown. Technical analysis is also done through observation of various market sentiment readings, many of which are quantitative. Market sentiment gauges the relative degree of bullishness and bearishness in a given security, and a contrarian investor utilizes such sentiment advantageously. When most traders are bullish, then there are very few traders left in a position to buy the security in question, so it becomes advantageous to sell it ahead of the crowd. When most traders are bearish, then there are very few traders left in a position to sell the security in question, so it becomes advantageous to buy it ahead of the crowd. The risk in utilization of such sentiment technical measures is that a very bullish reading can always become more bullish, resulting in lost opportunity if the money manager chooses to act upon the bullish signal by selling out of a position. The reverse is also true in that a bearish reading of sentiment can always become more bearish, which may result in a premature purchase of a security.

There are risks involved in using any analysis method.

To conduct analysis, Sequent Planning gathers information from the internet, financial newspapers and magazines, inspection of corporate activities, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, timing services, annual reports, prospectuses and filings with the SEC, and company press releases. Sequent relies on service providers for information as part of their analysis and makes no guarantees as to the accuracy of the information.

Investment Strategies

Sequent Planning uses the following investment strategies when managing client assets and/or providing investment advice:

Long term purchases. Investments held at least a year.

Short term purchases. Investments sold within a year.

Option writing including cover options, uncovered options or spreading strategies. Options are contracts giving the purchaser the right to buy or sell a security, such as stocks, at a fixed price within a specific period of time.

Investment Models. Sequent Planning may offer certain investment models when suitable for clients. The Models include:

- Capital Preservation Plus - This SmartRisk model is designed to provide investors with capital preservation and current income to help cover known and unexpected expenses, principally through cash, cash equivalents, bond and treasury-based investment vehicles, and nominal amount of equity and alternative investment exposure.
- Income Plus - Designed for income investors who can withstand modest volatility, this SmartRisk model strives for a balance of capital preservation, income generation and modest growth through investments in cash, cash equivalent, bond, treasury, and a modest amount of income-focused equity vehicles and alternative investments such as commodities.
- Conservative Growth - This SmartRisk model is designed to help risk adverse long-term investors modestly grow their investments while also providing income. It seeks to achieve these objectives by investing in a mix of cash equivalent, bonds both short-term and long-term bonds, treasuries, and a modest amount of equities and alternative investments in different combinations and weightings.

- Moderate Growth- This SmartRisk model is designed to help investors pursue long-term growth of investments primarily through a mix of cash equivalents, bonds, domestic and international fixed income and equities, and alternative investments which when combined offer the potential for growth while tempering the impact of volatility.
- Growth – This SmartRisk model is designed for investors looking for growth while understanding downside risk. Investors should have longer investment time horizons. Our model is designed to navigate the ups and downs in the standard long-term market cycle. This model takes a global approach with its investments in domestic and international equities, fixed income and alternatives with the goal to maximize the capture of gains while limiting the exposure to losses.
- Aggressive Growth – The SmartRisk models are designed for investors who seek aggressive growth over longer time frames and can tolerate wide fluctuations in market values, especially over the short term. The Aggressive Growth models generally are based on a premise that a particular segment will outperform the general markets. These models may be concentrated in specific sectors or industries. In some cases, the investor must be willing and able to sustain significant losses.

Primarily Recommend One Type of Security

We do not primarily recommend one type of security to clients. Instead, we recommend any product that may be suitable for each client relative to that client's specific circumstances and needs.

Risk of Loss

Past performance is not indicative of future results. Therefore, you should never assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable. Investing in securities (including stocks, mutual funds, and bonds, etc.) involves risk of loss. Further, depending on the different types of investments there may be varying degrees of risk. You should be prepared to bear investment loss including loss of original principal. Sequent does utilize third-party software to help quantify the risk exposure in your investment portfolio. The results are based on models, and models are based on assumptions, therefore, the results are merely estimates.

Because of the inherent risk of loss associated with investing, our firm is unable to represent, guarantee, or even imply that our services and methods of analysis can or will predict future results. Further, we cannot successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate you from losses due to market corrections or declines. There are certain additional risks associated with investing in securities through our investment management program, as described below:

- Market Risk – Either the stock market as a whole, or the value of an individual company, goes down resulting in a decrease in the value of client investments. This is also referred to as systemic risk.
- Equity (stock) market risk – Common stocks are susceptible to general stock market fluctuations and to volatile increases and decreases in value as market confidence in and perceptions of their issuers change. If you held common stock, or common stock equivalents, of any given issuer, you would generally be exposed to greater risk than if you held preferred stocks and debt obligations of the issuer.

- Company Risk. When investing in stock positions, there is always a certain level of company or industry specific risk that is inherent in each investment. This is also referred to as unsystematic risk and can be reduced through appropriate diversification. There is the risk that the company will perform poorly or have its value reduced based on factors specific to the company or its industry. For example, if a company's employees go on strike or the company receives unfavorable media attention for its actions, the value of the company may be reduced.
- Fixed Income Risk. When investing in bonds, there is the risk that the issuer will default on the bond and be unable to make payments. Further, individuals who depend on set amounts of periodically paid income face the risk that inflation will erode their spending power. Fixed-income investors receive set, regular payments that face the same inflation risk.
- Treasury Inflation Protected/Inflation Linked Bonds: The risk of default on these bonds is dependent upon the U.S. Treasury defaulting (extremely unlikely); however, they carry a potential risk of losing share price value, albeit rather minimal.
- Debt securities. Debt Securities carry risks such as the possibility of default on the principal, fluctuation in interest rates, and counterparties being unable to meet obligations.
- Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITS). REITS have specific risks including valuation due to cash flows, dividends paid in stock rather than cash, loss of value of collateral and the use of debt that could result in high interest payments.
- Private placements. Private Placements carry a substantial risk as they are largely unregulated offerings not subject to securities laws and may be illiquid.
- Long term trading. Long term trading is designed to capture market rates of both return and risk. Due to its nature, the long-term investment strategy can expose clients to various other types of risk that will typically surface at various intervals during the time the client owns the investments. These risks include but are not limited to inflation (purchasing power) risk, interest rate risk, economic risk, market risk, and political/regulatory risk.
- Short term trading. Short term trading risks include liquidity, economic stability, inflation, and higher trading expenses.
- Options Risk. Options on securities may be subject to greater fluctuations in value than an investment in the underlying securities. Purchasing and writing put and call options are highly specialized activities and entail greater than ordinary investment risks.
- Exchange Traded Fund (ETF) and Mutual Fund Risk – When investing in an ETF or mutual fund, you will bear additional expenses based on your pro rata share of the ETF's or mutual fund's operating expenses, including the potential duplication of management fees. The risk of owning an ETF or mutual fund generally reflects the risks of owning the underlying securities the ETF or mutual fund holds. You will also incur brokerage costs when purchasing ETFs.

- Management Risk – Your investment with our firm varies with the success and failure of our investment strategies, research, analysis and determination of portfolio securities. If our investment strategies do not produce the expected returns, the value of the investment will decrease.
- Fixed Index Annuities. Indexed annuities are complicated products that may contain several features that can affect your return. You should understand what the index utilized is, how it computes its index-linked interest rate, and what time period is utilized when calculating the interest rate, before you enter into an agreement.

Participation Rates. The participation rate determines how much of the index's increase will be used to compute the index-linked interest rate. For example, if the participation rate is 80% and the index increases 9%, the return credited to your annuity would be 7.2% ($9\% \times 80\% = 7.2\%$).

Interest Rate Caps. Some indexed annuities set a maximum rate of interest that the indexed annuity can earn. If a contract has an upper limit, or cap, of 7% and the index linked to the annuity gained 12%, only 7% would be credited to the annuity.

Margin/Spread/Asset or Administrative Fee. The index-linked interest for some annuities is determined by subtracting a percentage from any gain in the index. This fee is sometimes called the "margin," "spread," "asset fee," or "administrative fee." In the case of an annuity with a "spread" of 3%, if the index gained 9%, the return credited to the annuity would be 6% ($9\% - 3\% = 6\%$). It is important to note that indexed annuity contracts commonly allow the insurance company to change the participation rate, cap, and/or margin/spread/asset or administrative fee on a periodic – such as annual – basis. Such changes could adversely affect your return. Read your contract carefully to determine what changes the insurance company may make to these features.

Indexing. Another feature that can have a dramatic impact on an indexed annuity's return is its indexing method (or how the amount of change in the relevant index is determined). The amount of change is determined at the end of each "crediting period" within the contract's accumulation period. In many contracts, the crediting period is one year, although the length of the crediting period may vary from one contract to another. Common indexing methods include:

Point-to-point. This method credits index-linked interest based on comparison of the index level at two discrete points in time, such as the beginning and ending dates of the crediting period.

Averaging. This method credits index-linked interest based on comparison of an average of index values at periodic – such as monthly – intervals during the crediting period to the index value at the beginning of the period.

You should note that insurance companies may not credit you with index-linked interest for a crediting period if you do not hold your contract to the end of the period.

Other Features. Other features may be included in an indexed annuity you are considering. Before you decide to buy an indexed annuity, you should understand how each feature works and what impact, together with other features, it may have on the annuity's potential return.

Surrender Charges, Market Value Adjustments and other fees upon contract termination. Most indexed annuities contain surrender charges, Market Value Adjustments and other potential fees that may apply if you surrender the contract for its cash value prior to the expiration of the surrender charge period. You should understand these fees and charges and purchases should be limited to an amount that is unlikely that such charges would be incurred even in the event of a change to your personal circumstances.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns. Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Sequent has nothing to report in Item 9. There are no legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of our business or integrity.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Sequent Planning is not and does not have a related person that is a broker/dealer, municipal securities dealer, government securities dealer or broker, an investment company or other pooled investment vehicle (including a mutual fund, closed-end investment company, unit investment trust, private investment company or "hedge fund," and offshore fund), another investment adviser or financial planner, a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, or commodity trading advisor, a banking or thrift institution, an accountant or accounting firm, a lawyer or law firm, a pension consultant, a real estate broker or dealer, and a sponsor or syndicator of limited partnerships.

We are an independent registered investment adviser that provides investment advisory services. We are not engaged in any other business activities and offer no other services except those described in this Disclosure Brochure. However, while Sequent does not sell products or services other than investment advice and services, our IARs can offer other services. Many of our advisers also serve as insurance agents who sell other products or provide services outside of their role as IARs with us. This is known as an approved "Outside Business Activity" (OBA). Each IAR discloses to you their OBAs on the Part 2B form.

Insurance Agent

Many of our IARs are also insurance agents. You may work with the same person in the capacity of an IAR and in the capacity of an insurance agent. An IAR and an insurance agent are paid differently. When acting in his or her separate capacity as an insurance agent, IAR they will sell, for commissions, general disability insurance, life insurance, annuities, and other insurance products to you. An insurance agent can suggest that you implement recommendations of Sequent by purchasing an insurance product. The insurance agent will be compensated through the payment of commissions. This commission creates an incentive for the IAR to recommend those products. Consequently, the advice rendered to you could be biased. You are under no obligation to implement any insurance or annuity transaction through your IAR.

Some of our IARs are insurance agents associated with Futurity First Insurance Group, an insurance agency under common ownership with Sequent Planning. Clients of Sequent Planning may be referred to Futurity First Insurance Group for insurance products and services. You should be aware that a conflict of interest exists between our interests and your interests. You are under no obligation to act on our recommendations and, if you do, you are under no obligation to affect any insurance transactions through Futurity First Insurance Group.

Senior Market Sales, Inc.

Michael Chochon is Vice President and an IAR of Sequent. He is also affiliated with Senior Market Sales, Inc. (SMS). Mr. Chochon spends approximately 0-10% of his time working on behalf of SMS. He is the Director of Strategic projects for SMS, which is an Insurance Marketing Organization (IMO) and owner of Sequent. SMS works with independent contractor insurance agents. With roles in both entities, there is a conflict of interest between Mr. Chochon's role as Vice President and IAR of Sequent and his role as the Director of Strategic Projects at SMS.

Covisum, LLC

Senior Market Sales, Inc. (SMS) is majority owner of Covisum. SMS is 100% owner of Sequent. Joseph Elsasser, an investment advisor representative of Sequent, is also the President of Covisum, LLC. In his role at Covisum, Joe is compensated by a salary and regular bonuses based on the overall performance of Covisum. Covisum develops and brings to market financial planning tools including Social Security Timing, Tax Clarity, SmartRisk and Income Architech. Sequent Planning utilizes the Covisum financial tool set.

Third-Party Asset Management Programs

Sequent Planning has developed several programs, previously described in Item 5 of this disclosure brochure, designed to allow us to recommend and select third-party money managers for you. Once selected, the third-party money manager will pay us a portion of the Advisory Fees you are charged. Receiving direct or indirect compensation for the management of assets by third-party asset managers creates a material conflict of interest, because Sequent has an incentive to place assets based on compensation. Sequent addresses this material conflict of interest through a process of placing assets solely on the suitability information provided by the client and documented on account applications. The investment advisor representative will monitor the client's investments, and whether or not those investments are reflective of the risk tolerance, time horizon, and investment objective of the account. Please refer to Items 4 and 5 for full details regarding the programs.

Sequent will utilize other advisors through its Wrap Fee program. The selection process is covered in our Wrap Fee Brochure. The use of other advisers and the sharing of compensation creates a conflict of interest. It is the express policy of Sequent that all persons associated in any manner with our firm must place clients' interests ahead of their own when implementing services. Prior to selecting any third-party manager or other adviser, Sequent will ensure they are properly registered or exempt from registration.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics Summary

According to the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, an investment adviser is considered a fiduciary and has a fiduciary duty to all clients. Sequent Planning has established a Code of Ethics to comply with the requirements of Section 204(A)-1 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 that reflects its fiduciary obligations and those of its Supervised Persons. The Code of Ethics also requires compliance with federal securities laws. The Code of Ethics covers all individuals that are classified as "Supervised Persons". All employees, officers, directors and IARs are classified as "Supervised Persons". Sequent

Planning requires its Supervised Persons to consistently act in your best interest in all advisory activities. Sequent Planning imposes certain requirements on its Supervised Persons and affiliates to ensure that they meet the firm's fiduciary responsibilities to you. The standard of conduct required is higher than ordinarily required and encountered in commercial business.

This section is intended to provide a summary description of the Code of Ethics of Sequent Planning. If you wish to review the Code of Ethics in its entirety, you should send us a written request and upon receipt of your request, we will promptly provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to you.

Supervised Persons and Affiliates Personal Securities Transactions Disclosure

It is the express policy of Sequent Planning that all Supervised Persons of our firm must place clients' interests ahead of their own when implementing personal investments. Sequent Planning personnel or Supervised Persons of the firm will buy or sell for their personal accounts at or round the same time as clients, investment products identical to those recommended to clients. This creates a conflict of interest. Sequent Planning and its Supervised Persons will not buy or sell securities for their personal account(s) where their decision is derived, in whole or in part, by information obtained as a result of employment or association with our firm unless the information is also available to the investing public upon reasonable inquiry. Also, Sequent does not recommend that clients buy or sell any security in which a related person to Sequent or a Sequent Supervised Person has a material financial interest.

To prevent conflicts of interest, we have developed written supervisory procedures that include personal investment and trading policies for our representatives, employees and their immediate family members (collectively, Supervised Persons):

- Supervised Persons cannot prefer their own interests to that of the client.
- Supervised Persons cannot purchase or sell any security for their personal accounts prior to implementing transactions for client accounts (within a prudent time period).
- Supervised Persons cannot purchase or sell securities for their personal accounts when those decisions are based on information obtained as a result of their employment, unless that information is also available to the investing public upon reasonable inquiry.
- Supervised Persons are prohibited from purchasing or selling securities of companies in which any client is deemed an "insider".
- Supervised Persons are discouraged from conducting frequent personal trading.
- Supervised Persons are generally prohibited from serving as board members of publicly traded companies unless an exception has been granted to the Chief Compliance Officer of Sequent Planning.

Any Supervised Person not observing our policies is subject to sanctions up to and including termination. We are now and will continue to be in compliance with applicable state and federal rules and regulations.

Code of Ethics for CFP®

In addition to abiding by our Code of Ethics, some of our investment adviser representatives are Certified Financial Planners™ (CFP®) and also abide by the Code of Ethics and Responsibility Code of the Certified Financial Planner™ Board of Standards, Inc. The Code of Ethics and Responsibility Code requires CFP® designees to not only comply with all applicable laws and regulations but to also act in an ethical and professional responsible manner in all professional services and activities. The principles guiding CFP® designees are:

- Integrity
- Objectivity
- Competence (in providing services and maintaining knowledge and skills to do so)
- Fairness (to clients, principals, partners and employers and disclosing any conflicts of interest in providing services)
- Confidentiality (keeping all client information confidential without the specific client consent unless in response to legal process or in defense of charges of wrongdoing or civil dispute)
- Professionalism
- Diligence

You can obtain a copy of the Code of Ethics and Responsibility Code by requesting a copy from one of our investment advisor representatives.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

We exercise reasonable due diligence to make certain that best execution is obtained for all clients when implementing any transaction by considering the back-office services, technology and pricing of services offered.

Clients are under no obligation to act on the financial planning recommendations of Sequent Planning. If the firm assists in the implementation of any recommendations, we are responsible to ensure that the client receives the best execution possible. Best execution does not necessarily mean that clients receive the lowest possible commission costs but that the qualitative execution is within the “best” definition. In other words, all conditions considered, the transaction execution is in your best interest. When considering best execution, we look at a number of factors of our execution partner besides prices and fees including, but not limited to:

- Execution capabilities (e.g., market expertise, ease/reliability/timeliness of execution, responsiveness, integration with our existing systems, ease of monitoring investments)
- Products and services offered (e.g., investment programs, back office services, technology, regulatory compliance assistance, research and analytic services)
- Financial strength, stability and responsibility
- Reputation and integrity
- Ability to maintain confidentiality

Brokerage Recommendations and Custodians

If you sign an investment advisory agreement, you are required to establish a brokerage account at one of our qualified custodians: Fidelity, SEI or Trust Company of America. The custodian relationship is determined by the investment management strategy and partner. For example, when the adviser utilizes TCA for the platform, TCA will be the custodian for that account. Sequent has three platforms for our IARs to choose from. Each platform has one custodian that provides exclusive services to that platform.

Fidelity

Fidelity provides Sequent Planning with access to their institutional trading and custody services. The services from Fidelity include brokerage, custody, research and access to mutual funds and other investments.

Fidelity is the custodian for the Wrap Fee Program.

SEI Trust Company

SEI Trust provides Sequent with access to their institutional trading and custody services. The services from SEI Trust include brokerage, custody, research and access to mutual funds and other investments.

SEI Trust is the custodian that supports the SEI Asset Management program. A complete description of SEI's advisory services, fee schedules and account minimums will be disclosed in their Firm Brochure which will be provided to you by SEI prior to or at the time an agreement for services is executed and the account is established.

Trust Company of America (TCA)

TCA provides Sequent with access to their institutional trading and custody services. The services from TCA include brokerage, custody, access to investments and other services.

TCA is the custodian that supports advisors that are not utilizing the Wrap Program or the SEI Asset Management program. The description of TCA's custodian and other fees will be disclosed in the Sequent or FFWM Advisory Agreement which will be provided to you at the time the account is established. TCA will receive marketing fees (i.e. 12b-1 fees or other fees) on mutual fund holdings which will offset custodian fees charged to the client's account.

Additional Custodian Information

The type of asset management program you choose determines which custodian(s) you can open an account with and the advisory services provided by Sequent. The qualified custodian may charge a separate custodial fee for the custody services it provides to your account.

Our custodians make available to Sequent Planning other products and services that we benefit from but may not benefit your accounts. Some of these other products and services assist us in managing and administering client accounts. These include software and other technology that:

- Provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmation and account statements)
- Facilitate trade execution (and allocation of aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts)
- Provide research, pricing information and other market data
- Facilitate payment of our fees from client accounts
- Assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting

Many of these services generally may be used to service all or a substantial number of our accounts. The custodians also make available other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business. These services may include:

- Consulting, publications and conferences on practice management
- Information technology
- Business succession
- Regulatory compliance

- Marketing

In addition, our custodians make available, arrange and/or pay for these types of services rendered to Sequent Planning by independent third-parties providing these services to us. As a fiduciary, we endeavor to act in your best interest. Our requirement that you maintain your assets in accounts at an approved custodian may be based in part on the benefit to us of the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by the custodian. This creates a conflict of interest.

You are under no obligation to act on our recommendations.

Directed Brokerage

Clients should understand that not all investment advisors require the use of a particular broker/dealer or custodian. Some investment advisors allow their clients to select whichever broker/dealer the client decides. By requiring clients to use a particular broker/dealer or custodian, Sequent Planning may not achieve the most favorable execution of client transactions and the practice requiring the use of specific broker/dealers may cost clients more money than if the client used a different broker/dealer or custodian. However, for compliance and operational efficiencies, Sequent Planning has decided to require our clients to use broker/dealers and other qualified custodians determined by Sequent Planning.

Soft Dollar Benefits

An investment adviser receives soft dollar benefits from a broker-dealer when the investment adviser receives research or other products and services in exchange for client securities transactions or maintaining an account balance with the broker-dealer.

Sequent Planning has soft dollar arrangements with broker-dealers and/or third-party service providers.

Handling Trade Errors

Sequent Planning has implemented procedures designed to prevent trade errors; however, trade errors in client accounts cannot always be avoided. Consistent with its fiduciary duty, it is the policy of Sequent Planning to correct trade errors in a manner that is in the best interest of the client. In cases where the client causes the trade error, the client is responsible for any loss resulting from the correction.

Depending on the specific circumstances of the trade error, the client may not be able to receive any gains generated as a result of the error correction. In all situations where the client does not cause the trade error, the client is made whole and any loss resulting from the trade error is absorbed by Sequent Planning. If the error is caused by the broker-dealer, the broker-dealer is responsible for handling the trade error. If an investment gain results from the correcting trade and the correcting trade involves more than one client account, Sequent will prorate the gains to those clients' accounts.

Sequent Planning will never benefit or profit from trade errors.

Block Trading Policy

We can elect to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time. This process is referred to as aggregating orders, batch trading or block trading and is used by our firm when Sequent Planning believes such action can prove advantageous to clients. If and when we aggregate client orders, allocating securities among client accounts is done on a fair and equitable basis.

Typically, the process of aggregating client orders is done in order to achieve better execution, to negotiate more favorable commission rates or to allocate orders among clients on a more equitable basis in order to avoid differences in prices and transaction fees or other transaction costs that might be obtained when orders are placed independently.

Sequent Planning uses the pro rata allocation method for transaction allocation. Under this procedure, pro rata trade allocation means an allocation of the trade at issue among applicable advisory clients in amounts that are proportional to the participating advisory client's intended investable assets. Sequent Planning will calculate the pro rata share of each transaction included in a block order and assigns the appropriate number of shares of each allocated transaction executed for the client's account.

If and when we determine to aggregate client orders for the purchase or sale of securities, including securities in which Sequent Planning or our associated persons may invest, we will do so in accordance with the parameters set forth in the SEC No-Action Letter, SMC Capital, Inc. Neither we nor our Supervised Persons receive any additional compensation as a result of block trades.

Agency Cross Transactions

Our Supervised Persons are prohibited from engaging in agency cross transactions. We cannot act as brokers for both the sale and purchase of a single security between two different clients. Further, we cannot receive compensation in the form of an agency cross commission or principal mark-up for the trades.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Account Reviews and Reviewers

Account reviews will include investment strategy and objectives review and making a change if strategy and objectives have changed. Reviews are conducted by the relevant IARs, with reviews performed in accordance with your investment goals and objectives. Client accounts are reviewed at least annually. While the calendar is the main triggering factor, reviews can also be conducted at your request.

Account review procedures for Wrap Fee accounts are covered in our Wrap Fee Brochure. Any quarterly performance reports will be provided by the platform provider or the third-party money manager.

Accounts established and maintained with other third-party money managers are reviewed at least annually, usually when statements and/or reports are received from the money manager.

Our financial planning services terminate upon the presentation of the written plan. Our financial planning services do not include monitoring the investments of your account(s), and therefore, there is no ongoing review of your account(s) under such services.

Statements and Reports

For our asset management services, you are provided, upon request, transaction confirmation notices and regular quarterly account statements directly from the qualified custodian.

Whether reports by a third-party manager are provided directly to you will depend upon the money manager.

Financial planning clients receive the written plan originally contracted for and provided by Sequent Planning.

You are encouraged to always compare any reports or statements provided by Sequent Planning or the third-party money manager against the account statements delivered from the qualified custodian. When you have questions about your account statement, you should contact our firm and the qualified custodian preparing the statement.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Sequent Planning has the ability to enter into arrangements with affiliated and non-affiliated parties (Referring Parties) who refer clients to Sequent Planning.

Client Referrals

Sequent will pay a small fee ($50 – $100) to a Referring Party when the prospective client is referred to us. If a referred client enters into an investment advisory agreement with Sequent Planning, a second solicitor's fee will be paid to the Referring Party. The second solicitor fee amount is determined taking into consideration the following items: 1) is Referring Party a registered or non-registered agent, 2) size of the advised account AUM, 3) complexity of the account, 4) recurring nature of referrals and 5) other situational items. The referral fee schedule is as follows:

- Registered Advisor - % of AUM or Flat Fee(s)
- Non-Registered Agent – Flat Fee(s)

The referral relationship will not result in clients being charged any fees over and above the normal Advisory Fees charged for the advisory services provided.

When a client is referred to us by a Referring Party, the Referring Party provides the client with a copy of our Disclosure Brochure as required by the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. The client will complete and sign a Solicitor's Disclosure Statement document. If the Referring Party is an unaffiliated registered investment adviser firm, then the client will also receive a copy of the referring party's Form ADV Part 2A Disclosure Brochure.

Please see Item 5, Fees and Compensation, Item 10, Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations and Item 12, Brokerage Practices, for additional discussion concerning other compensation.

Expense Reimbursement

We can from time to time receive expense reimbursement for travel and/or marketing expenses from distributors of investment and/or insurance products. Travel expense reimbursements are typically a result of attendance at due diligence and/or investment training events hosted by product sponsors.

Marketing expense reimbursements are typically the result of informal expense sharing arrangements in which product sponsors may underwrite costs incurred for marketing such as client appreciation events, advertising, publishing, and seminar expenses. Although receipt of these travel and marketing expense reimbursements are not predicated upon specific sales quotas, the product sponsor reimbursements are typically made by those sponsors for which sales have been made or for which it is anticipated sales will be made. This creates a conflict of interest in that there is an incentive to recommend certain products and investments based on the receipt of this compensation instead of what is in the best interest of our clients. We attempt to control for this conflict by always basing investment decisions on the individual needs of our clients.

Item 15 – Custody

Sequent Planning does not have custody of client funds or securities. Custody, as it applies to investment advisors, is defined as holding, directly or indirectly, client funds or securities, or having any authority to obtain possession of them. This definition also applies to our affiliated persons, in connection with advisory services we provide to clients, when applicable. Custody is not limited to physically holding client funds and securities. If an investment adviser has the ability to access or control client funds or securities, the investment adviser is deemed to have custody and must ensure proper procedures are implemented.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

When providing asset management services, Sequent Planning maintains trading authorization over your Account. We can provide asset management services on a discretionary basis. When discretionary authority is granted, we will have the authority to determine the type of securities and the amount of securities that can be bought or sold for your portfolio without obtaining your consent for each transaction.

If you decide to grant trading authorization on a non-discretionary basis, we will be required to contact you prior to implementing changes in your account. Therefore, you will be contacted and required to accept or reject our investment recommendations including:

- The security being recommended
- The number of shares or units
- Whether to buy or sell

Once the above factors are agreed upon, we will be responsible for making decisions regarding the timing of buying or selling an investment and the price at which the investment is bought or sold. If your accounts are managed on a non-discretionary basis, you need to know that if we are not able to reach you or you are slow to respond to our request, it can have an adverse impact on the timing of trade implementations and we may not achieve the optimal trading price.

You will have the ability to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments that may be purchased in your Account. You may also place reasonable limitations on the discretionary power granted to Sequent Planning so long as the limitations are specifically set forth or included as an attachment to the client agreement.

Clients will grant Sequent Planning discretionary authority to establish and/or terminate a relationship with a Sub-Adviser or Co-Advisor (if clients utilize the SEI or Flexible Plan Programs) for purposes of managing the Account or a portion of the Account determined by Sequent Planning. Client will also grant the Sub-Adviser selected by Sequent Planning with the discretionary authority (in the sole discretion of the Sub-Adviser without first consulting with Client) to make all decisions to buy, sell or hold securities, cash or other investments for such portion of the Account managed by the Sub-Adviser. Client will also grant the Sub-Adviser selected by Sequent Planning with the power and authority to carry out these decisions by giving instructions, on behalf of Client, to brokers and dealers and the qualified custodian(s) of the Account. Client authorizes Sequent Planning to provide a copy of this Agreement, if requested, to the qualified custodian or any broker or dealer, through which transactions will be implemented on behalf of Client, as evidence of Sub-Adviser's authority under this Agreement.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

Sequent Planning does not vote proxies on behalf of Clients. We have determined that taking on the responsibilities for voting client securities does not add enough value to the services provided to you to justify the additional compliance and regulatory costs associated with voting client securities. Therefore, it is your responsibility to vote all proxies for securities held in Account.

You will receive proxies directly from the qualified custodian or transfer agent; we will not provide you with the proxies. You are encouraged to read through the information provided with the proxy-voting documents and make a determination based on the information provided.

With respect to assets managed by a third-party money manager, we will not vote the proxies associated with these assets. You will need to refer to each third-party money manager's disclosure brochure to determine whether the third-party money manager will vote proxies on your behalf. You may request a complete copy of third-party money manager's proxy voting policies and procedures as well as information on how your proxies were voted by contacting the third-party money manager or by contacting Sequent Planning at the address or phone number indicated on Page 1 of this disclosure document.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Sequent Planning does not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance. Therefore, we are not required to include a balance sheet for the most recent fiscal year. We are not subject to a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to clients. Sequent Planning has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time.

No Arrangement with Issuer of Securities

Sequent Planning and its management do not have any relationship or arrangement with any issuer of securities.

Customer Privacy Policy Notice

Commitment to Your Private Information: Sequent Planning has developed a policy of protecting the confidentiality and security information we collect about our clients. We do not, and will not, share nonpublic personal information about you ("Personal Identifying Information" or "PII") with outside third parties without your consent, except for the specific purposes described below. This notice has been provided to you to describe the PII we may gather and the situations under which we may need to share it.

Why We Collect and How We Use Information. We limit the collection and use of Personal Identifying Information within our firm to only those individuals associated or employed with us that must have this to provide financial services to you. Such services include maintaining your accounts, processing transaction requests, providing financial advisory, and other services described in our Form ADV.

How We Gather Information. We get most of your Personal Identifying Information directly from you when you provide us with information from any of the following sources:

- Applications or forms (for example: name, address, social security number, birth date, assets, income, financial history)
- Transactional activity in your account (for example: trading history and account balances)
- Information services and consumer reporting sources (for example: to verify your identity or to assess your credit history)
- Other sources with your consent (for example: your insurance professional, attorney, or accountant)

How We Protect Information. Our employees and affiliated persons are required to protect the confidentiality of Personal Identifying Information (“PII”) and to comply with our stated policies. They may access PII only when there is an acceptable reason to do so, such as to service your account or provide you with financial services. Employees who violate our Privacy Policy are subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination from employment with us. We also maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards to protect information, which comply with applicable SEC, state, and federal laws.

Sharing Information with Other Companies Permitted Under Law. We do not disclose PII obtained in the course of our practice except as required or permitted under law. Permitted disclosures include, for instance, providing PII to unrelated third parties who need to know such PII in order to assist us with providing services to you. Unrelated third parties may include broker/dealers, mutual fund companies, insurance companies, and the custodian with whom your assets are held. In such situations, we stress the confidential nature of PII being shared.

Former Customers. Even if we cease to provide you with financial products or services, our Privacy Policy will continue to apply to you and we will continue to treat your PII with strict confidentiality.

Business Continuity Plan

Sequent Planning has a business continuity and contingency plan in place designed to respond to significant business disruptions. These disruptions can be both internal and external. Internal disruptions will impact our ability to communicate and do business, such as a fire in the office building. External disruptions will prevent the operation of the securities markets or the operations of a number of firms, such as earthquakes, wildfires, hurricanes, terrorist attack or other wide-scale, regional disruptions.

Our continuity and contingency plan has been developed to safeguard employees’ lives and firm property, to allow a method of making financial and operational assessments, to quickly recover and resume business operations, to protect books and records, and to allow clients to continue transacting business. Our business continuity and contingency plan is reviewed and updated on a regular basis to ensure that the policies in place are sufficient and operational.
